In October 2019, Mercy Corps and our Board of Directors requested that investigative firm Vestry Laight an independent, external review into the steps taken when reports of abuse conduct by Mercy Corps’ late co-founder Ellsworth Culver were brought to the organization’s attention in 2018.

Mercy Corps also engaged law firm Nichols Liu to conduct a separate evaluation of the organization’s policies and procedures on sexual exploitation and abuse. Both reports were published by Mercy Corps on February 5, 2020 and can be found in full on Mercy Corps’ website here.

Mercy Corps’ Management and Board of Directors unanimously accepted the findings and recommendations contained in both reports, and Mercy Corps’ Board of Directors and Executive Team announced Mercy Corps’ Commitments to Action to address the reports’ recommendations to conduct further investigations, restructure legal, ethics, and safeguarding functions, update safeguarding policies, and strengthen Board governance. The Mercy Corps Board of Directors and Executive Team pledged to review the Commitments to Action at each board meeting until all matters have been implemented and to report on progress to the public twice a year during that time. This is the sixth biannual report on Mercy Corps’ implementation of our Commitments to Action. Previous reports from July 2020, January 2021, July 2022, January 2022 and July 2022 can be found here.

Mercy Corps has delivered on the majority of our Commitments to Action. A comprehensive governance review was completed in November 2020 to enact Board term limits of two three-year terms, with a possible extension for a third term of three years in exceptional circumstances, for a maximum of nine years. Thirteen Board Directors have departed since 2019, including seven in June 2021. Since January 2020,
Mercy Corps has welcomed fourteen new Board Directors. Four Directors departed at the end of June 2022, and three new Directors joined in September 2022.

In May 2021, we published the Freeh Group’s independent investigation. Mercy Corps has continued to build our newly restructured Ethics and Compliance Department, with added full-time investigators and technical roles, and expanded safeguarding prevention and community accountability teams with new positions and support across all countries where Mercy Corps operates.

Safeguarding will always be a key Mercy Corps priority and requires continuous effort on the part of everyone who works on our behalf. Although our safeguarding work continues, we closed the majority of our commitments in our January 2022 update¹ and an additional three commitments in July 2022². In this report, we close commitments 11 and 20. Commitments 3, 12, and 23 are still in progress. These commitments include finalizing a process to examine and reassess how we reflect the role of Mercy Corps’ founders, implementing the recommendations of an external assessment of our safeguarding policies, and ensuring the Board reviews progress updates to the commitments at Board meetings.

Restructuring the Legal, Ethics and Safeguarding Functions

Commitment 4: Hire a Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer

Hire a Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer (CECO), independent of both the Legal and Human Resource departments, reporting to the CEO and to the Board of Directors. Safeguarding intake and investigations will report to the CECO, not the General Counsel or Human Resources. All Human Resources investigations of sexual misconduct or harassment cases, whether between team members or others, will also be the responsibility of the safeguarding team and fall under the auspices of the CECO. In addition, the new department led by the CECO will be staffed and resourced appropriately and will implement survivor-centered and trauma-informed best practices, such as case management by a multidisciplinary team that includes a qualified mental health professional.

Updates to Policies
Commitment 11: Assess Efficacy of Safeguarding Policies
Conduct an investigation into how Mercy Corps’ safeguarding policies are working in practice to ensure that policies are implemented effectively and sufficiently resourced.

Progress Update on Commitment 11

As reflected in the progress updates to Commitments 4 and 5, we have made significant changes in safeguarding implementation and resourcing since the Commitments to Action were made in early 2020. Discussions take place on an ongoing basis to monitor resourcing needs. We have added significantly to our in-country safeguarding resources and made important structural changes to our legal, ethics and investigative functions. This includes: strengthened governance; the creation of a dedicated Intake and Investigations team within a stand-alone Ethics and Compliance Department; the implementation of trained in-country Safeguarding Focal Points, Champions and Co-Investigators; and increased capacity of the global Safeguarding Prevention team. In May 2021, the Global Safeguarding Prevention team was consolidated within the Ethics and Compliance Department.

As discussed in the update to Commitment 12, a third party audited a sample of our investigations and determined that our approach meets industry standards. Our policies and investigative processes have been reviewed by a range of donor assessments, and the findings and recommendations from these assessments have been implemented. In addition, between March and June 2022, internationally recognized safeguarding experts, Global Child Protection Services (GCPS) conducted a comprehensive external review of our safeguarding policies. The policies were reviewed against donor expectations, sector standards and best practices, and benchmarked against peer organizations. GCPS found that our policies generally meet or exceed sector standards, and recommended we clarify and strengthen some of the content in our policies. In 2023, recommendations from the GCPS review will be incorporated into revisions to our safeguarding policies. These recommendations also will be incorporated into our Safeguarding Core Standards Policy, which is planned for organization-wide roll out in 2023.

Commitment 11 is now closed.
Commitment 12: Review and Revise Mercy Corps’ Policies and Procedures

As part of the review, conduct an audit of past investigations.

Additional Commitments

Commitment 20: Drive Leadership Accountability
Review and update relevant policies and position descriptions of Executive Team members to ensure that, when applicable, responsibilities around safeguarding, ethics, diversity, inclusion, and culture are included when the Board Compensation Committee performs their annual review.

Progress Update on Commitment 20

Our position description (PD) template has been updated to include revised language that identifies behavioral expectations and responsibilities around safeguarding, ethics, diversity, inclusion and culture. All Executive Leadership Team PDs and objectives have been updated to include similar language and will be standardized for all leadership positions in FY23.

Mercy Corps’ People Team has launched a comprehensive review and refresh of the performance review process this year called Performance Possible, which includes standardizing expected behaviors related to inclusion, integrity and ethical decision making for all levels of the organization. All team members, including the Executive Leadership Team, will be evaluated through these behavioral expectations and performance metrics associated with them.

In addition, the People Team has developed a mitigating bias training for leaders and hiring managers, which has been delivered to a subset of our population, including the Executive Team and Board. The Executive Leadership Team has also been participating in intensive diversity, equity, and inclusion workshops with external experts. The People Team is currently identifying opportunities to integrate training related to safeguarding, ethics, diversity, and inclusion into various phases of the team member lifecycle (e.g., onboarding, manager training, etc.).
